Albany City Council Dec. 28th approved an emergency ordinance transferring property tax assessing and collecting to the county. (According to county legal advisors, the county cannot accept the responsibility unless the people of Albany approve a charter amendment to that effect, so the switch cannot be accomplished now.)

Council directed City Attorney Larry Saler to prepare a resolution opposing the State Division of Highways plan to drop San Pablo Avenue as a state highway. Saler was asked to prepare ordinances on plantings and ground cover for Albany parking strips and to prepare a resolution to move an AC Transit stop 60 feet west of 1104 Portland Ave., where it blocks a driveway.

Two Pickups Set Saturday

Two groups of young people will be going door to door in Albany Saturday.

Members of Boy Scout troop 12 and Cub Pack 3 will be collecting Christmas trees beginning at 9 a.m. They would appreciate a contribution for collecting the tree, which will be burned by Albany firemen on Sunday.

The Girls League of Albany High School will be collecting bottles which can be turned in for cash. They plan to use the money for scholarships.

Four Weathermen Come Forth

Since the Times appealed for a new weatherman last Tuesday, four people who keep track of rainfall have called with their records.

Apparently many factors are involved in keeping records of rainfall. Reports on what has fallen vary. Here is what we found out as of Dec. 31:

Harold Munson, 1031 Merced, Berkeley: total of 15.8 inches for the season (beginning July 1).

E. H. Ellerbusch, 1051 Ordway: season to date, 14.5 inches; 9 inches in December.

Charles Corbett, 1008 Ordway: season to date, 13.05; 8.45 inches in December.

L. W. Howard, 704 Ensenada, Berkeley: season to date, 16.28; 10 inches in December. July to December, 1963: 7.07 inches.

No matter how you cut it or whose report you read, Albany and vicinity has had a lot of rain!

CATHOLIC LADIES

Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 12, Branch 54, Catholic Ladies Aid Society of St. Ambrose Church, will hold a dessert-card party in the Parish Hall, Gilman and Stannage Avenues. Refreshments will be served at noon followed by whist at 1 p.m. Public invited. Chairman Mrs. Arthur Taveira will be assisted by Mesdames Claude Swasey, Leona Stanley, Bryant Thelan, Thomas Trayhey, ElRoy Trost, Arthur Vargas, Joseph Vila, Frank Walton, Catherine Vickers, George Woody, William Wright and Edward Wuelzer.

COUNCIL Tax Collection By County On Next Ballot

Albany City Council Monday night repealed the ordinance requesting Alameda County to collect local taxes and agreed informally to place a charter amendment, which legally would permit the switch, before the people of Albany in the next city election.

In other matters in a 45-minute session, Council:

Requested the district attorney to send a representative to meet with the Council to discuss an agreement with the county creating an economic opportunity agency; approved progress payments of $19,650 to Wahamaki and Corey, architects; $26,967.82 to Murphy-Pacific, and $2,572.69 to DeLeuw, Cather;

Directed Administrative Officer James B. Turner to cooperate with Richmond in an effort to reduce toll rates on the Richmond-San Rafael bridge; passed resolutions changing parking and bus stop on Portland, protesting the deletion of San Pablo Avenue from the state highway system; approved Councilman Richard Clark's appointment of Howard Heath, Ruth Ganong and Ruth Lyons to the Goals and Objectives committee;

Held over any action concerning signs adjacent to freeways for "a clearer definition of the problem," asked City Attorney Larry Saler for an opinion regarding possible conflict in adoption of a proposed city-county library agreement; heard Willard Evans complain about commercial expansion zoning.

Turner reported that Albany sewers are giving little trouble considering the heavy rainfall, adding that if the rain were continuous, instead of in showers, sewers would be troublesome. He said PG&E is working on the wiring for street lights, hoping to find shorts causing some lights to glow like candles.

Soroptimists Initiate Three at Serb's Today

Bernice Boyd, President of the Soroptimist International of Albany, announced that three Albany business and professional women will become members at the club's first meeting of the new year this noon at Serb's Restaurant.

Those to be initiated are Freda Hanelt, school nurse; Betty Lott, principal of Marin school, and Mary Smith, an accountant in charge of Phil Sessions Accounting Office.

LITTLE LEAGUE

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Albany Little League has been called by Del Wisenor for Wed. Jan. 6, 8 p.m. at the Community Center, University Village.

OPEN LETTER TO ALBANY

On Dec. 3, 1964, Herman Ruth unveiled sketches of a series of alternate plans that were to form the base of Albany's General Plan for the growth of our city. This meeting was well attended by homeowners, business and real estate representatives. Most homeowners that spoke felt strongly against any of the three plans in that they would destroy the single-family, small town concept of Albany which was one of their reasons for buying in Albany.

On Dec. 7, 1964, Mayor Hein announced that there would be a special meeting Dec. 15 at the Council chambers to tentatively choose one or a combination of all three of Mr. Ruth's alternate plans. A modified concept of Plan I was chosen by the Council to submit to Mr. Ruth for study.

While Plan I is less drastic than Plans II or III in changing Albany from a city of homes to a city dominated by multiple dwellings, nevertheless huge areas now zoned R-1 will be eventually rezoned for multiples.

It is regrettable that these important meetings took place during the Christmas season, although Mayor Hein made repeated requests for all interested parties to attend and state their views. Apparently most homeowners were caught up in the holiday activities and gave little thought to the importance of these special meetings concerning the future of their homes and their city.

My purpose in writing this letter is to neither endorse or reject the possible adoption of Modified Plan I. Albany has paid for, and must have, a General Plan for future intelligent growth. Actually there is much to be said for modified Plan I, if adopted. The building of a great number of multiple dwellings and huge apartment houses, we've been told, should broaden the tax structure and the resultant scarcity of homes should increase the value of those that remain.

The December 15 meeting was not well attended. The Council chambers were sparsely filled (less than 20%) and on such a vital issue affecting single-unit home owners. Why?

The only reason for this letter is to strongly urge homeowners to attend the special meeting tomorrow night, January 7, at 8 p.m. at the City Council Chamber. Mr. Ruth is expected to report whether the Council's recommendations for a modified Plan I will work. Concerned citizens should also attend all future special meetings, and make their views known.

It is not too late to concern yourselves with the General Plan that will create great changes in our city, for better, or for worse. If you wake up in a year, or five, or 10 from now, and find your street zoned not to your liking, it will be too late. The time is now.

JEROME BLANK SPECIALS

Near Downtown
Berkeley

We're looking for a buyer with old-fashioned ideas, such as liking a Cape Cod type roof, with steep pitch, allowing water to drain off fast. He must like a 5 room home with a large attic in which he can store all the debris he has accumulated over the years. This will keep him safe from the trauma that comes from discarding his prized possessions. He must also like a full basement. He can't be so old-fashioned, however, that he cannot enjoy the new kitchen with formica counters, bathroom with Hollywood vanity, and the newness that comes from newly painted rooms and wall-to-wall carpeting. He must also be acquainted with contemporary prices so that he will realize that $18,750 for a charming home in this location north of University Ave. is a buy, especially when $1,300 will move him right in. Mr. Goldwater, where are you?

We Like Our Work!

A salesman must always like his product, but it's particularly pleasant to sell a home that is so outstanding in quality and design. Our sales staff love us for bringing in this fine upper Albany California Colonial home. They like the look of pure joy on the customers' faces as they step into the vinyl entry hall, and take their first step into the plush, soft new wall-to-wall carpeting of the living room. They try to hold down their exuberant feeling as the customer exclaims over the spacious room sizes, the large kitchen, and separate breakfast room. They say, "Aww shucks," in true Gary Cooper fashion, as the prospect examines the unusually large 3 bedrooms, and joyously views the marvelous bathroom with new fixtures, stall shower, and built-in vanity. Even though our salesmen are industrious, they long to linger with their customers in the lovely yard with its redwood fence, and park-like surroundings. Won't someone please buy this home, and let our salesmen get back to work?

Yes, It's Unusual

This home won't fill the needs of every 3 bedroom buyer. As a matter of fact, it has a very unusual floor plan which will appeal to a buyer who wants a split level home. You see, with 5 rooms, 2 bedrooms and a modern bath on the main floor, there is a very large bedroom-modern bathroom suite on lower floor, somewhat separated from the main living area—really ideal for in-laws, guest suite, or working area in home for authors, artists, and other creative people. Lovely palm-tree lined grounds on this 75x100 lot are conducive also to serene living, especially from this lovely knoll-top just above Carlson Boulevard in the beautiful Annex area. A fine bay for $23,500. Evenings, Mr. Williams, LA 6-3819.

View From On High!

A luscious marine view is the main feature of this lovely Balra Drive home in upper El Cerrito. The home is modern, with wall-to-wall carpeting, drapes, and in immaculate condition. A 2-car garage plus large basement area give that storage which is so important for convenient living. GI or FHA financing is available for buyer with small to moderate down payment. Trade in your smaller home for the finest view available. Evenings, Mr. Lewis, 538-3099.

THREE SAVINGS ASSOCIATIONS MERGE TO FORM AMERICAN SAVINGS & LOAN

A major milestone in the history of Northern California's financial community was reached Jan. 11, when Pioneer Investors, Home Mutual and Berkeley Savings merged to form American Savings and Loan Association of California, a billion dollar institution with 30 branches located throughout the state. The new organization, the Greater San Francisco Bay Region and Monterey, is the largest savings and loan system in the world. Its main office is located in San Francisco at 10 Kearny Street; administrative headquarters for the merged associations is in San Jose at 55 West Santa Clara Street.

With assets of $1,160,199,791, savings of $901,087,525 and loans outstanding of $1,018,695,343, American Savings ranks as the nation's third largest savings association.

Dr. Frederick Balderston, California Savings and Loan Commissioner, and L. E. Woodford, senior vice-president, Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco, in announcing their agencies' approval for the merger stated that this action would be beneficial for the general public and the association.

Charles A. Wellman, president of American Savings, emphasized that the merger of the three leading Northern California associations will eliminate overlapping marketing areas, effect more complete utilization of electronic data computing equipment and streamline the association's top level management echelons.

"By so doing, we attain maximum efficiency with minimum operating costs, resulting in our increased ability to provide a better and broader service to our customers throughout Northern California," stated Wellman.

AARP
American Association of Retired Persons, Albany-North Berkeley chapter, will meet Jan. 12, at Albany Senior Citizens building, 846 Masonic, at 1:30 p.m. to install the 1965 slate of officers elected at the November meeting. Mrs. Bernice Boyd, manager of Security Savings and Loan association of Albany, will be installing officer. All members are urged to attend.

CARSON PASS HIGHWAY
Carson Pass Highway was first opened to wagon travel during the height of the gold rush days. In 1844, according to the National Automobile Club, Kit Carson led the Captain Fremont expedition over the Sierra Nevada and five years later the first emigrants rushed through in their search for gold.
